NOT OF SCOTCH DESCENT. The Late President Heber C. Kimball's

Genealogy Submitted by His Son.

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 19, 1901. To the Editor:

In a recent Saturday Issue of the 'News' is found the following paragraph, which was taken from Bishop itney's Life of Heber C. Kimbail: The Kimballs were of Scotch descent. Their ancient name, it is believed, beng Campbell. Heber's grandfather and a brother came from England in time to assist in gaining the independence of the colonies." This is a mistaken idea that has crept into our father's history through the force of circumstances, one that I will endeavor descent, and their ancient name is not believed to be Campbell. Neither did Heber's grandfather and brother come from England in time to assist in gaining the independence of the colonies. This erroneous idea was brought about in the following manner: When our father, Heber C. Kimball, joined the Mormon" Church in 1832, those of his relatives who were in possession of his amily records, became so embittered towards him on this account, that he was unable thereafter to get access to them, and consequently could not find out who his grandfather Kimball was, In later years he became very desirous of ascertaining these facts, and en-gaged Colonel Kane and our brother They, with a very limited knowledge of genealogical work, undertook the task, and in a few months traced the name Kimball to Scotland, and connected with a family by the name of Campbell. They reported these facts to our father, and convinced him that such was the case; and this idea has

Prof. S. P. Sharples, of Boston, Mass., whose wife is a Kimball, and Prof. L. A. Morrison, of Windham, New Hampshire, (whose mother was a Kimbail, also), both expert genealogists, published in 1897 a genealogical history of the Kimbail family of America in two volumes, comprising 1,300 pages, and finely illustrated. Prof. Morrison went to England and visited many of the old Kimball homes there, includng those in the parishes of Rattlesdon, Hitcham, Groton, Boxford, Bildeston and Fersham, all of Suffolk county, and traced the line of descent as far back as 1400. At that time the name was spelled Keymboulde and a hundred years later Kembould. In 1600 it was Kemball and is spelled that way in England today. Many prominent English families are coming interested in the work, among them being Major-General J. S. SABBATH BREAKING

Apostle Cowley's Strong Discourse in the Tabernacle.

THE JUDGMENTS OF GOD.

When Innocent People Are Divested of Their Homes by Mobocracy, God Has a Controversy With Mobbers.

The services in the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon were presided over by Prest. Angus M. Cannon and were opened by the choir singing the hymn commencing, "High on the mountain tops a banner is unfurled."

Prayer was offered by Elder Joseph H. Felt, after which the choir sang the hymn beginning with the words:

apostle M. F. Cowley prefaced his discourse by stating that he did not know any better place to spend the Sabbath day than in the house of worship. He felt impressed with that thought, because the Sabbath day was so frequently used for a day of recrea-tion. Many people justify themselves in remaining absent from meetings and Sunday schools, because they work so hard during the week days, they must have some recreation on the Sabbath day. No matter how the people of the world justify themselves, the Saints of God are not justified in going on excursions and indulging in recreation on the Sabbath day, and he wished to raise his voice in persuading the people to refrain from the violation of the Sab-

That day was not only set apart for the preaching of the Gospel, but to celebrate the shedding of Christ's blood for the sins of men. The speaker af-firmed that nothing was more restful to the body than to attend church and partake of the sweet influence of the Spirit of God.

Apostle Cowley also decried the too freequent use of the name of Delty,sayfreequent use of the name of Deity, saying that it should be used only when essential and that under the influence of the Divine Spirit. The Savior set an example for prayer, and enjoined upon the people to pray unto the Lord in secret. When Christ prayed He said, Our Father, avoiding the use of the name of Deity and expressing the true relationship between God and man. The speaker made the foregoing remarks introductory to an explanation of the establishing of the Priesthood in the earth, and those who receive that Priesthood and magnify it will receive Priesthood and magnify it will receive power even unto the renewal of body. That does not mean that they will not die, for all must experience that change called death, yet the promise is made to some that that change will transpire in the twinkling of an

The speaker stated that when he was member of the Elder's quorum when ne was a young man the quorum met Saturday nights, and after working hard all the week he would feel very tired but on going to his quorum meet-ing he would be refreshed in body and Spirit. The speaker once heard an eminent historian deliver a lecture in the State of Montana, The latter was an enthusiast over the Sabbath question and had made close investiga-tion of that subject. That man assert-ed that a very small percentage of people who observed the Sabbath went After reading from the epistle of

Paul to Timothy wherein the Apostle says that in the last days perilous times shall come, etc., the speaker sald that the judgments of God do not come upon the earth to please the Elders The Elders are not pleased with the calamities that are visited upon the people. If the people remain wicked and the judgments of God come upon them, the Elders cannot help it. the city of Jacksonville, Florida was almost destroyed by fire, after the peo-ple of that city had been warned by two Elders whom they had maltreated, and they were told if they did not repent the judgments of God would com upon them, the Elders could not help The same in regard to Galveston. It was the Spirit of God prompted the Elders to speak those words, and as sure as He lives His judgments will continue to befall the wicked. The speaker went on to describe the poverty-like condition of the people who inhabit the former homes of the Saints in Ohio and Illinois. "Whe God fearing people are divested of their homes and driven out by mobperacy, in a land of liberty, I want to tell you that God has a controversy with the people that formed that mob." A Catholic priest who is living in the home formerly owned by Apostle Parey P. Pratt at Nauvoo testified to the speaker that if the "Mormon" people had remained there the city would have had over a million inhabitants. Elder Cowley went on to testify that the Latter-day Saints are not the scum of the earth, that they are composed of some of the best people om all nations. The manner in which the Elders go out to preach the Gospel without hire, was explained in a lucid manner. Some people complain that the methods of the Elders are so simple and they appear so unlearned that highly respectable people do not feel like remaining to hear them. But no matter how eloquent an Elder is or argumentative the only thing that can properly convert the people is the spirit of God. Before a man can be an effect-ual preacher of the Gospel he must be born of the water and the spirit. There Christ that lighteth every man that is born into the world and the gift of the Holy Ghost. When people are converted to the Gospel it is by the spirit of God and not the eloquence of man.

There are tens of thousands of people in this land who feel that there is a upernatural force connected with 'Mormonism' but they do not attribute Joseph Smith was a prophet of God. These people are trying with determined sincerity to keep the Elders from reaching the ears of the people. stibracing the Gospel and testing its Elders of Israel are simple in their ways their testimonies are not made nil by their simplicity and the judg-ments of the Lord will come upon the people as sure as He lives for He has spoken it. Elder Cowley warned the people against the sin of Sabbath breaking, indolence and inordinate pleasure seeking. come when the Saints will have to obey a higher law than tithing, the law of consecration. The land of Zion will come into the hands of the Saints; the north country and the Lamanites will shout that will rend the earth. The speaker then read a passage from the Doctrine and Covenants relating to the return of the ten tribes, and their overoming of their enemies. Apostle Cowley concluded by bearing his tes-
